

216-Basic Study of a Novel 3L-NPC Full-Scale Converter for Variable-Speed Wind Turbines

Taiga Yamaguchi received the B.E. degree in electrical engineering from Chiba University, Japan, in 2025, where he is currently working toward the M.E. degree. His research interests include variable-speed wind energy conversion systems and power converters.